How to play

Word-call bingo for up to 24 individual players, or pairs.

01 Give out the cards

Give each player a different card, numbered 01 to 24, and a pen. The center FREE square counts as marked from the start. Players can pair up or watch.

02 Prepare the calls

Cut out all 48 calling slips from pages 27 and 28. Fold them alike and mix them in a bowl. Keep the master calling list on page 26 with the host.

03 Call one word at a time

Draw one slip without replacing it. Read the whole phrase aloud, show the slip if helpful, and tick it on the master list. Mark an exact match on your card; some calls will not appear there.

04 Make a line of five

A win is five marked squares across a row, down a column, or along either full corner-to-corner diagonal. FREE counts toward any line through the center. Say Bingo when you have a line.

05 Check every claimed win

Pause the calls. The host checks all words in the claimed line against the words already drawn. If a word has not been called, keep playing. Check other players who finished on the same call.

06 Share a tie and finish the round

Everyone with a valid line on that same winning call shares the win. End the round after those claims are checked. For another round, clear all marks or use fresh copies, then remix all 48 slips.

Printing: Pages 1-24 are player cards. Page 26 is the calling list. Pages 27-28 are the 48 calling slips. Choose the file matching your paper; print at Actual size (100%). Print only as many different player cards as you need, plus the host pages.

The calling list

Tick each phrase after drawing it. Do not call down this list in order.
